

Decoding the 2026 Tamil Nadu Election

A Data-Driven Story Pitch for AtliQ Media

Shubham Jaiswal | Data Analyst

Source: Election Commission of India

The Assignment

What AtliQ Media Needs

A one-hour fact-based TV show on the 2026 Tamil Nadu Assembly election results. No political debates. No commentary. Only clean ECI data turned into stories a viewer can follow.

Our Approach

234 constituencies analyzed across 6 regions. We selected 3 data stories from the ECI results, each backed by one clear chart and ready for a 15-minute TV segment.

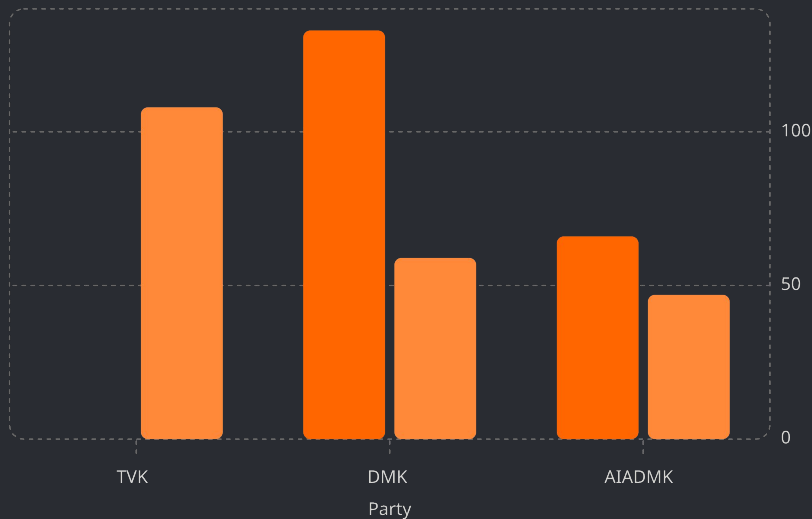

Source: results.eci.gov.in

The Map Redrawn

163 of 234 seats changed party — a 70% churn rate. TVK went from 0 seats in 2021 to 108 seats in 2026. DMK collapsed from 133 to 59. AIADMK fell from 66 to 47.

2021 Seats

2026 Seats

TVK

0 → 108 seats

DMK

133 → 59 seats

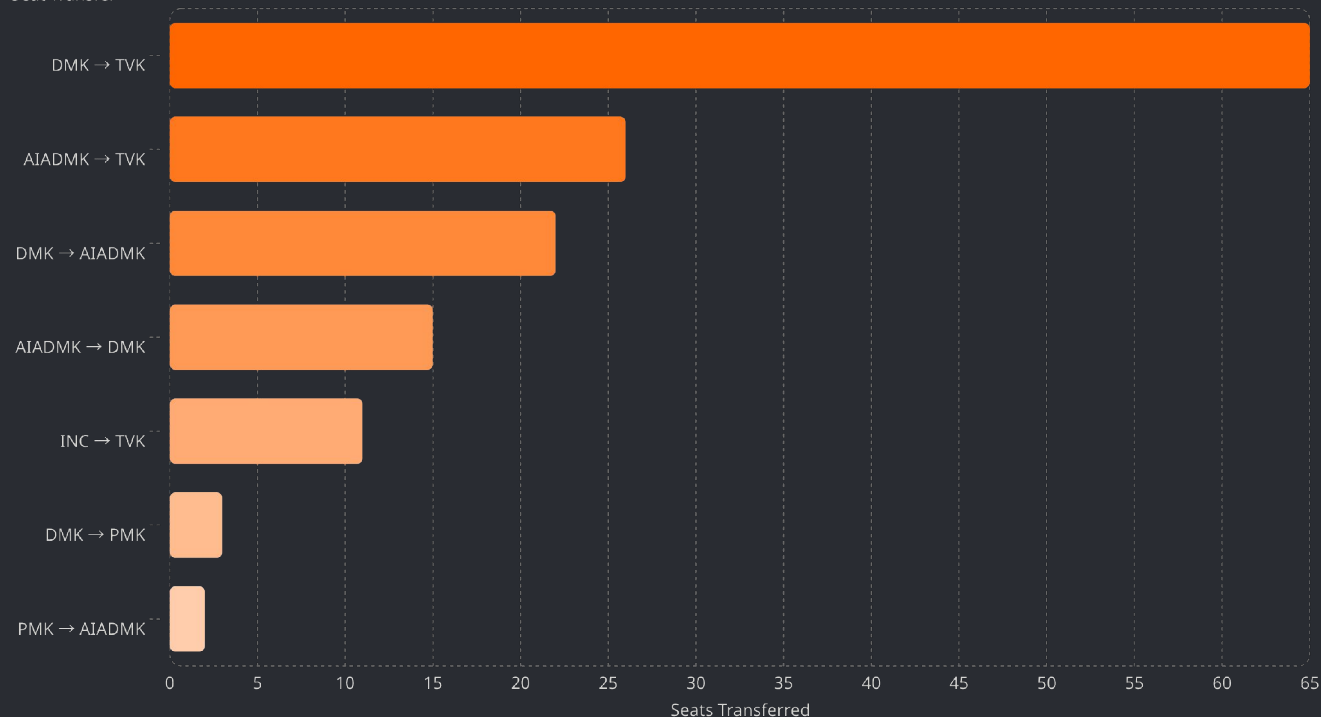

AIADMK

66 → 47 seats

Where Did the Seats Go?

TVK drew seats from every single party – no one was left untouched. DMK lost 65 seats to TVK and 22 to AIADMK. AIADMK lost 26 to TVK. INC lost 11 to TVK.

Seat Transfer

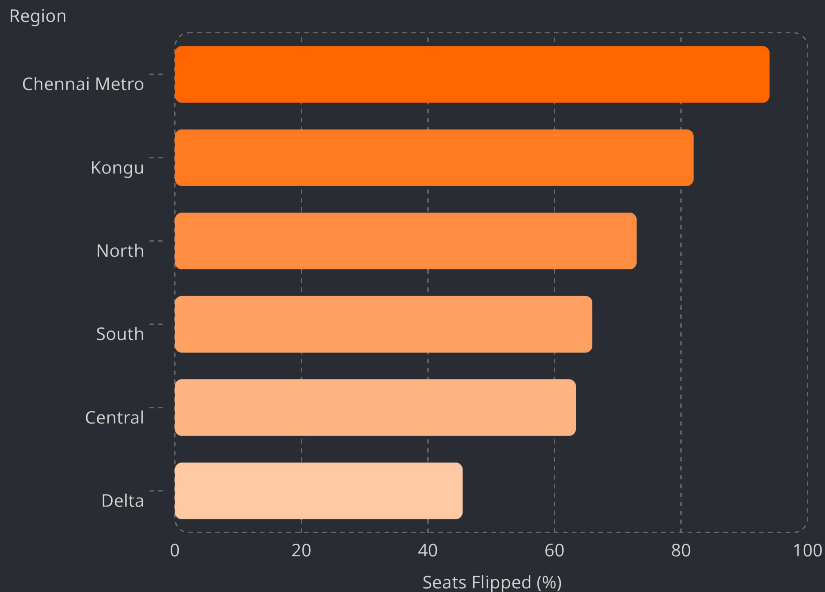

STORY 2

The Wave Hit Unevenly

Chennai Metro was the epicenter — 94% of seats flipped in a single night.
The wave was real, but far from uniform across Tamil Nadu's six regions.

Seats Flipped by Region

Chennai Metro

94% – 30 of 32 seats

Kongu

82% – 27 of 33 seats

North

73% – 27 of 37 seats

South

66% – 38 of 58 seats

Central

63.4% – 26 of 41 seats

Delta

45.5% – most stable, 15 of 33 seats

STORY 3

The Illusion of Decisive Wins

A 3-way vote split made thin pluralities look like commanding victories. In 2021, only 2 winners got under 35% of votes. In 2026, 64 did.

7.7%

Avg. Margin 2026

Down from 11.7% in 2021

64

Winners Under 35%

More than 2 in 3 voters chose someone else

1

Vote Margin

One seat decided by exactly 1 vote

Margin Collapse: 2021 vs 2026

What the Numbers Mean

Average margin dropped from 11.7% in 2021 to 7.7% in 2026 — a 34% collapse in mandate clarity.

In the 64 seats where winners got under 35% of votes, more than 2 in 3 voters chose someone other than the winner.

i One seat was decided by a margin of exactly 1 vote.

Honest About the Data

1

Turnout Data Unavailable

2026 turnout data is unavailable. ECI Form-20 (final audited data) had not been released when this dataset was prepared.

2

Constituency Name Matching

Constituency name spellings differ between the 2021 and 2026 files. Analysis used ac_number as the primary join key — not names — to avoid silent data loss.

3

Live Results Source

All findings are based on the ECI live results portal. Minor revisions are possible in the final audited release.

4

Non-Partisan Exercise

This is a non-partisan exercise using only publicly available ECI data. No political inference is drawn.

✓ Every number in this deck is directionally accurate and sourced exclusively from public ECI data. AtliQ Media can use these findings with confidence.

Three Headlines for AtliQ Media

01 — The Map Redrawn

Tamil Nadu 2026 saw a 70% seat churn — the most volatile result in recent memory. A brand new party won 108 seats in its first ever election.

02 — The Wave Hit Unevenly

Chennai Metro and Kongu were hit hardest at 94% and 82%. Delta held steadiest at 45%. The wave was real but uneven.

03 — The Illusion of Decisive Wins

64 winners got less than 35% of votes. Average margins shrank from 11.7% to 7.7%. One seat was won by a single vote.

Recommended Show: 3 segments × 15 min | Tools: Python, Power BI, ECI Data | Shubham Jaiswal

